(Special To The News)
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The conference of self-styled Progressives is to meet in Chicago on September 11 to endorse the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt calls attention to the growing absurdity of the use of the Democratic label by the New Dealers. Senators LaFollette and Norris are to be commended for discarding the Republican designation that for years has had no real meaning for them.

Mayor LaGuardia has completed a triple play, from Socialist to Republican to New Dealer. A new lineup under Mr. Roosevelt and the braintrusts is emerging. It expresses the desire of politicians to capitalize discontent, agrarian and urban. It is the same motivating force which has brought to birth so many spectacular but impermanent political movements. This movement differs from its predecessors in that it has at its command the organization of a great political party. The Populists, Know-Nothings and Greenbackers labored under the handicap of having to build their own machinery. Mr. Roosevelt inherited his, all oiled and greased, from Thomas Jefferson.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Rain which the weatherman threatened for the Labor Day weekend failed to arrive in this locality. The weather over the week-end was very satisfactory.

Buckwheat crops in this area are being harvested.

A top dressing has been placed on the concrete highway between New Castle and Harlansburg that greatly improved the highway. There are several other highways in the county that would be much benefitted by the same treatment.

New Castle public schools get under way tomorrow for the fall term.

The period of the year has arrived when the flies seek the indoors to keep warm, and stick closer than a brother.

Buildings are being boarded up rapidly at Cascade park and the much occupied concessions will be given a complete rest until next summer. Labor Day ending park activities, including swimming.

Bicycling is rapidly getting into the major sports class. On Saturday, two young ladies, Miss Rose Russo, of Wayne avenue and Grace Clark of Moody avenue pedaled their way to Youngstown and back.

Traffic on the highways Sunday and Monday was especially heavy and the ideal weather that prevailed encouraged motorists to take advantage of the situation and drive into the country. Folks were seen partaking of picnic lunches, sitting

Estimate 60,000 Dead In Spanish Warfare

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER

(Copyright, 1936, by International News Service)

NORTHERN SPANISH WHITE ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Burgos, Sept. 8.—Hot on the heels of its victory at Irún, the white army today won another important battle in the decisive Toledo sector, where Lieut.-Col. Yague's column of half-naked Legionnaires, fighting in blistering heat, tore through a Red column of 7000, killed 425 of the enemy, and gained another ten miles towards Madrid.

Estimate 60,000 Dead
With the civil war now in its eighth week, and the total dead on all sides estimated at 60,000, the Red front is steadily contracting as the Whites close in. This does not mean that the end is near, but the White successes of the last few days, giving them successively the cities of Irún in the north and Talavera de la Reina in the south, cost the Reds upwards of 2000 dead and made any talk of compromise between the contending parties completely out of the question so far as Burgos is concerned.

Elated at its triumphs, and contemptuous of the new Madrid cabinet of out-and-out Reds under Premier Francisco Largo Caballero, the Burgos government issued a strong protest against French sup-

President To Leave Tonight On Trip South

Will Make Tour Of Southern States On "Non-Political" Visitation

WILL SPEAK AT CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Will Also Drive Through Great Smoky Mountains National Park

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—President Roosevelt who has been on the road almost continuously since early June, prepared to leave Washington again this evening, heading south for a "green pastures" rally at Charlotte, N. C. in which loyal Democrats from six south-eastern states are expected to participate.

The Charlotte rally will be addressed late Thursday afternoon. Mr. Roosevelt found the white house still in a state of upheaval due to the installation of new wiring when he returned Sunday from his 12-day swing through the drought area, however, and immediately decided to advance his departure for the south tonight.

By leaving this evening, the president will be enabled to make a long desired motor trip through Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

His special train will get him into Knoxville, Tenn., about 10 o'clock C. S. T. tomorrow morning, where Eastern Tennessee new deal advocates have planned a rousing welcome for him.

To Visit Great Smoky Park

From Knoxville, after the reception, the executive planned to motor 140 miles through the Great Smoky Park to Asheville, N. C., spending Wednesday night at the North Carolina health resort.

Thursday, Mr. Roosevelt will continue

Top Honors For Four-Day Meet Held By French Flier Michel De Troyat

MANY RECORDS ARE SHATTERED

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 8.—Finishing with a terrific blaze of speed through a low haze fog swept in from the ocean, the 1936 National Air Race passed into aviation history today.

One event, the 50-mile Sheell Cup race, postponed because of the fog, will be held today.

Top honors of the four-day meet went to Michel De Troyat, French army ace, who roared to a new record to win the 150-mile 15-lap Charles E. Thompson trophy dash. Flying his sleek blue billion dollar Caudron Renault plane at an average speed of 264.261 miles per hour, the Frenchman won $9,500 first prize money plus a $2,500 bonus for setting a new record.

Record Shattered
De Troyat shattered Jimmy Doolittle's two-year record of 252.686. Col. Roscoe Turner's National Air Race record of 248.12, and the Pulitzer speed record set in 1925 by Lieut. Cyrus Bettis of 249.99 miles per hour.

On his second lap De Troyat attained the amazing speed of 301.2 miles per hour.

Earl Ortman, of Los Angeles, flying a Keith-Rider, came in second, roaring around the pylons at 248.042 miles per hour and received $4,375 in prize money.

"Education means the balanced development of the full personality for service to the welfare of the world," said Dr. McIlvaine. "The entire object of true education is to make people not merely do the right things, not merely industrious but to love industry, not merely learned but to love knowledge, not merely pure but to love purity, not merely just but to love justice."

"This makes education something more than books, and class rooms and institutions. It means patient study, quiet meditation, a life devoted to the discovery and service of truth. You are members of a great

(International News Service)
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 8.—Washington voters cast ballots today in the state's primary election.

Seek Peaceful Surrender Of San Sebastian

City's Leaders Hope To Bargain With Rebel Leaders On Surrender

Anarchists Brandish Firebrands In Terrified Resort, Near Fall

LONDON, Sept. 8.—Diplomatic advices received here early this evening indicated Rebel Troops are making rapid progress in the vicinity of Madrid. Fall of the capital is now regarded inevitable.

By LEE DICKSON

HENDAYE, France, Sept. 8.—Rebel forces striding with little resistance past the smoking ruins of seaside hamlets were confronted today, as they placed their artillery within two and a half miles of San Sebastian, with an ultimatum from its defenders that may decide the city's fate and save the lives of 600 insurgents hostages held there.

While Anarchists brandished in the terrified resort, emissaries of the city's more moderate leaders bargained with rebel commanders for a peaceful surrender.

Will Apply Torch

Unless the advancing insurgents promise to spare all the San Sebastian defenders, the rebels were warned, the torch will be applied to San Sebastian as it was to Irún, and all the hostages will be mowed down by firing squads.

Chaos ruled in San Sebastian as thousands fled from the beautiful city of more than 70,000 population, but there was no fighting, either against the rebels or among the

CAMPAIGN BATTLE IN STATE

Both Parties Are Making Big Effort

Pennsylvania Battleground For First Time Since 1908 Leaders Say

ISSUE CLEAR CUT IN KEYSTONE STATE

By FREDERICK N. POLANGIN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 8.—Issues of the national political campaign were before Pennsylvania's electorate today, clear-cut for the first time.

Gov. George H. Earle, opening the Democratic campaign in the commonwealth last night, and Col. Frank Knox, G. O. P. vice presidential nominee, in an address in Allentown Saturday, defined them thus—President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

To Pennsylvania, observers agree, this main issue becomes highly significant, and the voting on it here in November will be all-important as far as the nation is concerned.

Cross-Section of Nation
For the commonwealth, it is pointed out, represents a cross-section of practically every element found in the nation as a whole. Here are centered the wheels of the nation's industries, here are abundant natural resources, an active trade, a large farming element and land-owning class—the small merchant, the big businessman and the laborer.

So Pennsylvania—for years "safely Republican"—falls into the doubtful column this year, it is generally agreed, with both parties conducting intensive campaigns to win the state's 36 electoral votes—votes that might turn the tide of the final election results.

Not since 1908 have both parties centered their campaign in Pennsylvania. Governor Landon has already made one appearance here, and G. O. P. leaders indicate he will come back again, as they hope also for a reappearance of Colonel Knox.

President Roosevelt is also expected to speak in Pennsylvania this fall.

Governor Earle last night declared President Roosevelt's fiscal and other policies have brought prosperity to the state and nation. Colonel Knox said the administration's program leads to economic and social stagnation, if not collapse, and offered, instead, a program of "simplicity in government."

Pennsylvania stands in the middle of the controversy.

time his journey to Charlotte, presumably by motor, arriving late in the afternoon and just in time to take part in the southern celebration. According to advance arrangements, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Virginia will be represented.

White house attaches insisted the president's speech at Charlotte would be "non-political," although word has come up from the South that his partisan supporters in that section were hoping for a strong campaign address.

At Syracuse Sept. 29
The president's first avowed speech in furtherance of his re-election apparently was to come at Syracuse on September 29, when he will appear before the closing session of the New York State Democratic convention.

After returning to Washington on Friday of this week and making an address before the world power conference that same day, the president plans to remain at the white house until September 17. He will then leave for Cambridge, Mass., to participate in the 300th anniversary celebration of his Alma Mater, Harvard, going from there to his family at Hyde Park for a 10 day stay.

His appearance at Syracuse will signalize the formal opening of his re-election campaign—although his Republican opposition contends he has been adroitly doing a lot of indirect campaigning for months.

port for Madrid, which may have far-reaching international consequences.

The French until now have insisted on the appointment of an international commission of control to make effective all European agreements to keep hands off Spain—particularly to keep Italy and Germany from helping the Whites.

Charges Vs. France
Now, the Burgos government charges, while France is demanding this, she:

First, allowed an uninterrupted stream of arms to flow to the Red army at Irún before its capture.

Second, is allowing Red airplanes to take refuge in her territory.

Third, had a shipment of 200 machine guns for the Reds waiting at Bayonne.

Fourth, assisted the Reds along the frontier by signalling them the position of the Whites.

This protest against French help for the Reds may strengthen Italian and German reluctance to make really effective their agreement not to help the Whites.

Of all the operations on the various fronts, the most important is the Foreign Legion's drive from Talavera De La Reina under command of Lieut.-Col. Yague.

Gen. Francisco Franco has not revealed whether he intends to take Toledo first, or skip Toledo and go straight to Madrid, but in any case there is where the war is being decided, and so far it is going badly for Madrid.

Lieut.-Col. Yague reports that he took 150 prisoners, ten heavy field guns, two tanks, and thirty trucks, besides killing 425 of his column struck out from Talavera.

At the same time his advance guard caught an enemy column attempting to blow up the railway bridge over the Alberche river and dispersed them with heavy losses.

today because of heated contests in the Democratic party for all major offices.

Gov. Ed. C. Johnson was favored to defeat former Gov. William E. Sweet for the Democratic nomination of United States senator. Moses E. Smith of Ault, former speaker of the house, was given a slight edge over Teller Ammons, Denver city attorney and Lieut. Gov. Ray H. Talbot of Pueblo, in the three-cornered fight for the Democratic nomination for governor.

In Georgia
Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 8.—Candidates for the United States senate and the governor's chair of Georgia wind up their campaign today and then settle down to await the outcome of the state Democratic primary tomorrow. Should fair weather continue, a record vote of approximately 350,000 ballots is expected to be cast.

Senator Richard B. Russell, Jr., running on a "pro-Roosevelt" platform is opposed for re-election to the senate by one of the present national administration's most severe critics—Gov. Eugene Talmadge.

It binds the workers together into a fraternity that works for the good of the worker. The present family squabble in the A. In conclusion, Mr. Hirschberg said "the everlasting solidarity of all wage earners is essential for the freedom and happiness of Americans."

FAITH

Since our ad in the paper one week ago, a party asked us if one could not have his wishes carried out in a will, why it would not be alright to make his requests known to his family. We said no, and cited two cases to him that have happened within the last two years, as follows: first

In a home where we had been the funeral director for the husband, the wife made repeated requests and told us every time she saw us that she expected us to take care of her funeral and no one else. Even after she was taken to the hospital, at which time she said she would not go if it was not in our ambulance, one of the sons called another ambulance unknown to her, and while in the hospital she made the requests to others of the family that we should take care of the funeral. When she passed away, one of her sons sold the funeral to another funeral director.

The other case is another home where we had been the funeral director in charge of the husband's funeral, leaving the widow, there being no children. This widow told us time and time again, and the last time within a very short time of her last illness that no one should take care of her funeral but us. But when she passed away a sister called another funeral director, even though she knew that we were the parties her sister wanted.

So, we said emphatically "No" make your arrangements direct with your funeral director and have it in writing.

WE DO NOT LEND OR RENT OUR CHAIRS. THEY ARE FOR FUNERAL WORK ONLY.

HAVE YOU THE UTMOST FAITH IN YOUR FUNERAL DIRECTOR?

HOLLYWOOD BREAKFAST REVEALS ENGAGEMENT

At a novel and cleverly arranged breakfast at 8 o'clock Labor Day morning, in the Lake Shore Hotel, Ashtabula, O., Miss Agnes McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McConnell, announced her engagement to Paul Sheilhammer, of Ashtabula.

The affair had a Hollywood tang, for as the guests arrived the hostess provided them with pictures of movie actresses whose names they were to guess. Miss Katherine McKinney, of Ashtabula, was the fortunate winner in this contest receiving a pretty award.

After the game, the hostess' cousin, Miss Jean Parker, of this city, furthered the Hollywood idea, by giving to each of the 18 guests, small slips of paper, "passes to a Hollywood breakfast." When opened these revealed the names of the engaged couple, "Agnes and Paul."

A tempting menu was enjoyed followed by games of bingo, tennis and shuffle-board at the hotel. Among those shoring in the festivities were Mrs. C. D. Parker, Morton street, and aunt of the bride-elect, Misses Jean and Emily Parker, cousins.

Miss McConnell's betrothal is of much interest in New Castle where she has frequently visited. Her mother was the former Mary Burns, daughter of the late W. T. Burns and Mrs. Burns, of Pine St.

Attending her as maid of honor was her twin sister, Fae, and she chose a Navy chiffon frock, with matching accessories and a shoulder bouquet similar to the bride's.

Ray Von Graff of Pittsburgh served the groom as best man.

Supplementing the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served the immediate families of the couple, at the home of the bride.

Supplements prevailed throughout and of special interest was that the occasion also marked the 32nd wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. This memorable occasion was fittingly observed, giving a double significance to the day's festivities.

The bride is a graduate of the New Castle high school with the class of '28 and is employed in the offices of Attorney C. W. Penton. The groom is affiliated with the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Youngstown.

Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson left for a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., and for traveling, the bride selected a gray Fall suit with Navy accessories.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH SCENE OF WEDDING

One of the loveliest weddings of the early fall season took place Monday morning at 9 o'clock in St. Mary's church when Gertrude C. Fee, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Fee and the late James Fee of West Grant street, became the bride of William P. Gilboy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilboy, also of West Grant street.

With the early morning sunlight streaming in through the glass of the colorful church windows throwing a ray of beautiful colored light upon her, the bride, a striking brunette, was a picture of loveliness in her bridal gown of white satin. It was floor length with a slight train, over which was worn a matching tunic coat with wide lapels and short puffed sleeves. A row of tiny satin covered buttons held it in place about the waist. Her finger-tip length tulle veil was made cap shape and was held in place at each side of her head with a gardenia. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, lilies, lilies of the valley, intermingled with tiny white asters.

Miss Claire Gilboy, sister of the groom, was maid of honor, wearing a floor length gown of baby blue lace made with peplum and short puffed sleeves. With it she wore white accessories and carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses, tied with blue mulline ribbon. Bernard Schooley, a nephew of the bride, served the groom.

The church was well filled with friends and relatives of the bridal couple who witnessed the single ring ceremony performed by Rev. Fr. W. M. P. Galvin, assistant pastor of St. Mary's church. After the ceremony the nuptial high mass was read by Fr. Galvin and sung by the male choir. The beautiful hymn "Ave Maria" was rendered at the offertory of the mass by Francis Morrissey, talented tenor of St. Mary's choir.

At noon in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Schooley, 312 Park avenue, a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. The long table stretching from the dining room clear through the living room, was a lovely sight in its appointments throughout of pink and white, with stars of silver running its length. Each place marked with tiny pink favors of a nuptial motif.

At the center of the table where the bridal couple and party were seated was placed the huge three-tiered wedding cake gorgeously decorated in pink and white. At its top, instead of the traditional miniature bride and groom, the initials of the couple were written in pink. The table was set three times, covers being laid for 102 in all.

In an upstairs room were displayed the lovely wedding and shower gifts. The new Mrs. Gilboy by her charming personality has endeared herself to many who have honored her at various showers and brought her lovely remembrances for her wedding day.

Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Gilboy left on a trip, the destination unknown. For travel, the bride chose a black crepe tunic suit with white lace blouse and black accessories, and a shoulder corsage of gardenias.

Mrs. Gilboy is a graduate of the local high school in January, 1935, and the groom in June, 1930. Mr. Gilboy for sometime back has been in Pittsburgh, Calif., where he was employed, coming on for the wedding last week. They do not plan to return immediately but will make their home for the present with the bride's mother on West Grant street.

Out of town guests were present from Pittsburgh, Grove City and Ellwood City.

DEVILS ISLAND DOOMED

A RELIC of medieval barbarity, Devils Island—officially known as the French Penal Colony in French Guiana—is to be abolished. Devils Island is the name of a small station in the colony where a few prisoners are segregated from their fellows for more "advanced" torture. But for most of the 84 years this wretched place has been in operation it has been known the world over as Devils Island, certainly a descriptive title for a prison from which there is no hope of release.

Horrible and lurid tales have been told about it, some of them making small mention of the crimes which have kept the islands populated since 1852. At intervals the French people have been ashamed of their far-away criminal colony, which has been called in France "an abcess on the body colonial." It is significant that the Ministry of Justice had been most stubborn in maintaining Devils Island as a place of punishment for treason, crimes of violence and incurable lawlessness, regarding its very existence as a preventive of serious criminality.

No more prisoners will be transported to French Guiana. A commission will soon be sent there to arrange for closing the colony and returning its inmates to prisons at home. This closes a long chapter in the history of crime and punishment, as happened when England abandoned the policy of sending criminals as far away as possible and forgetting them.

COAL WEATHER NEAR

Now it can be told that during the recent torrid unpleasantness when the mercury shot up to 100, more or less, and stayed there for weeks on end, cold weather—freezing and colder—was never more than a few miles distant.

This is proved daily by the observations of twenty-five airplane pilots, assigned by the Weather Bureau to find out what the weather is doing in this upper air. They take off from twenty-five cities at about four o'clock in the morning, wearing heavy clothing to keep them warm. Lately one of them found the temperature to be five degrees above zero over Billings, Montana, and another encountered a snowstorm above Omaha, Nebraska. When Washington was warm enough at seventy-nine degrees, the upper air levels were four degrees below freezing.

All this is important to weather forecasting but meteorological science has not yet found a way to keep all this cool weather from being wasted on the deserted air. It may be mid-Winter three miles away, but down here it can be hot.

SCIENTIFIC OCEAN FLIGHT

The Richman-Merrill flight is not just another ocean crossing by plane. Nor is it merely a successful attempt to make the crossing from New York to the British Isles in record-breaking time. Its importance, so far as aviation is concerned, arises from the unusual number of safety devices, new to trans-oceanic flying, employed in this crossing.

The ping-pong balls placed in the wings in case the pane fell to the sea were one novel feature, but there were others of greater import. A new type two-way radio transmitter and receiver was used. For the first time on an ocean flight a new radio compass was employed, which sounds a special signal when the plane is headed directly to the sending station. When the pilot deviates from the course the signal stops. This was the first flight of the kind in which an "artificial horizon" was used. This is a small clocklike instrument which shows the pilot, even in blind flying, when the machine is tilted.

Another new piece of equipment constantly tested the exhaust, enabling the pilot to fly with the leanest possible mixture, thus cutting gasoline consumption to a minimum. The plane was the first to cross the Atlantic with a constant-speed propeller, which turns at a fixed rate regardless of external conditions, and so prevents undue strain on the engine. A type of motor new to ocean flying also was employed.

That transatlantic flying is still a risky business was demonstrated by the 3000-foot nose-dive suddenly taken by the plane in mid-Atlantic, by the lightning stroke that put the radio apparatus out of commission, and the bad weather over Ireland that necessitated an hour and a half circling tour in the clouds before a forced landing was attempted.

GRIM TOLL

Despite all punitive and persuasive efforts, the toll of death from automobile accidents continues at a shocking rate. It is a drab picture presented by the National Safety Council's figures for the first seven months of this year, showing a total of 18,560 killed. This is only 330 fewer than for the corresponding period of 1935, a year that established an all time record of such fatalities—and the worst period is still ahead.

As the safety council's secretary observes "the trend is alarming." Particularly distressing is the fact that cities, which earlier in the year led the rural areas in holding down the number of deaths, backslid in July to show an increase of 11 per cent. For it is the cities where effective control is most possible, as witness what has been accomplished in congested New York City through a safety campaign intelligently and intensively conducted.

Operation of New York's new state law with its drastic penalties for reckless driving will be closely watched. As there is no specified speed limit, recklessness is gauged by the rate of travel, plus the type of vehicle driven and the highway, the density of traffic and like factors. It boils down to whether the driver used common sense. It looks like a good rule.

While from a national outlook the situation is gloomy, one bright spot does shine through. It is that out of thirty-six states reporting for the seven months, eighteen show a decrease from the corresponding period last year, no fewer than thirteen recording a drop of seven per cent or better.

These individual state gains may be laid to better methods of enforcement and education than obtain generally, but at best it is evident that present remedies fall short of reasonable effectiveness in controlling the horrible slaughter.

This campaign may go down in history as the Battle of the Cow Skulls.

Neutrality, played against the middle: A steamer sailed from Boston with ammunition for China and scrap iron for Japan.

A prize of $100 has been posted for poets who have never published any verse. They should regard this as an insult, as it is worth more.

Faith Still Exists.

Old Propaganda.

Noirmoutier Funeral.

Visiting Sisters.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE OLD ISLAND of Noirmoutier in the Atlantic Ocean, like old Vendee to which it belongs, is conservative and deeply Catholic. In spite of all efforts made at the time of the French Revolution to force radicalism on the population by massacring thousands and tearing down rebellious villages.

Back in the end of the century before last, the revolutionary government indulged in propaganda somewhere after the fashion now attributed to Russia. Even now you may purchase here and there, at a very high price, the queer old plates that the revolution distributed free among the Vendee peasants to make them turn against the nobles and the church.

On one of these plates you see a peasant bending under the weight of a gigantic cross and a huge saber, the cross representing the church, the saber representing the nobility; underneath is written:

"I'm tired of carrying them both."

But La Vendee was not convinced and is still conservative and Catholic.

Only recently when the young Duke De La Tremouille, whose ancestors used to own this island, appeared in the village church at high mass the village cur interrupted the sermon to say:

"You have the honor of having with you today, a descendant of the ancient family that ruled over you."

The young duke was received with every expression of affection and interest by the peasants and the small shopkeepers. Since then, unfortunately, the young man whose ancestors lived in the 1,100 year-old castle, still standing, was burned alive in a fire that destroyed the house in which he was visiting in England, and with him the old family De La Tremouille died out.

ALL IS STILL religious. Catholic and conservative on the Island of Noirmoutier. Groups of young boys of the thirving "aristocracy" (Continued On Page Seven)

I'm almost never late to dinner.

I wish I had a new car. (Salesmen, hold back, I'm not in the market.)

I wish the cherry season were longer.

Also, I hate standing around while she shops.

I don't mind waking up early; it's the getting out of bed that I don't like.

I like to look in hardware store windows and feast my eyes on shining tools—saws, drills, planes, squares, draw-knives, chisels, etc.

I can go for weeks without turning on the radio.... And sometimes do.

Why do the elevator men in the department stores pronounce lingerie as "lahn-ger-ray"? I should be "lahn-zree" and they can look it up in the dictionary if they don't agreeee!

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Back in the land of five years old I had the buttercups for gold,
And elves and gnomes and funny men
Were all my glad companions then.

Long years ago when I was small
The shadows on the garden wall
Would dance and clap their hands for me
And were as friendly as could be.

But now I've grown to man's estate;
For me out there no fairies wait;
And all the gnomes and elves are dead
Or from my garden ground have fled.

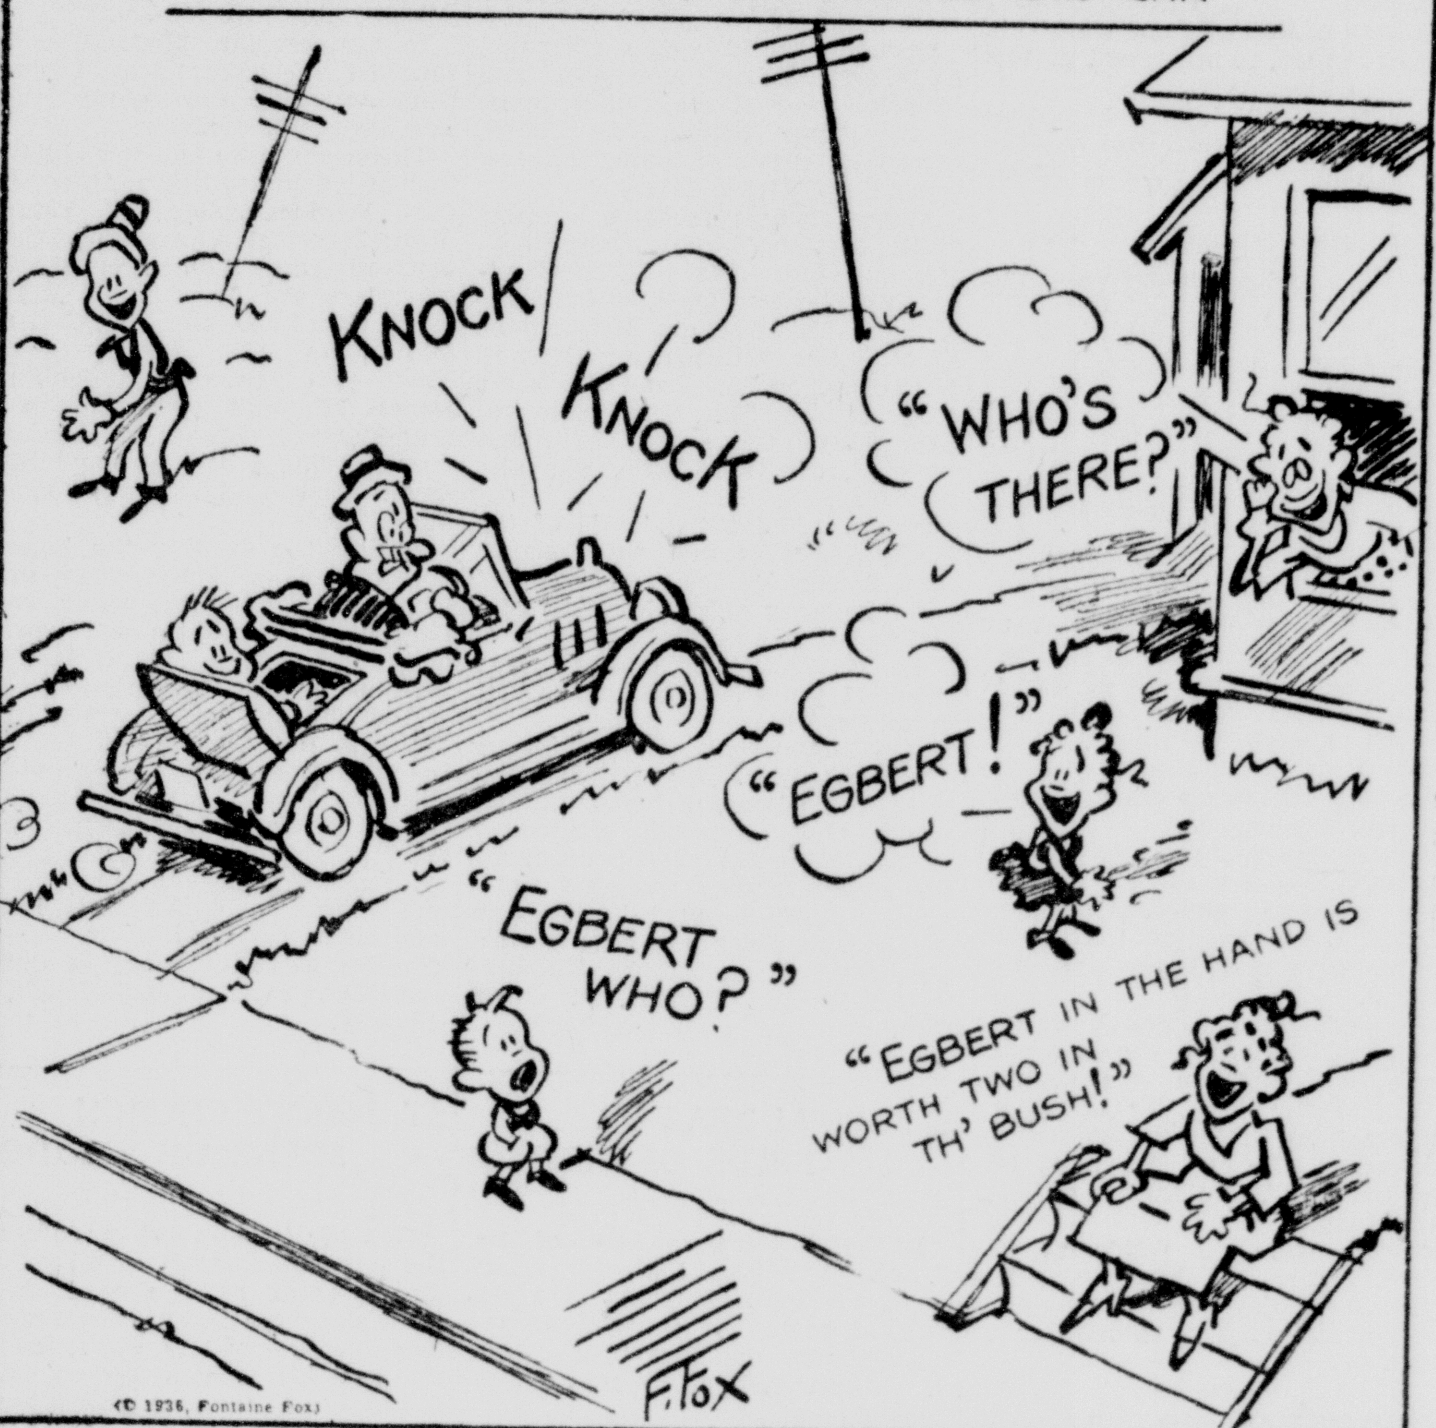

No matter now where'er I walk
I hear grown men and women talk
But common are the joys they know
And very tragic seems their woe.

I've lost the land of silver bells,
I walk no more where fancy dwells.
All now is real, and I surmise
I've now grown very old and wise.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DEAR Miss Markel—The other night I was attending a dinner party. One of the guests—a friend of mine—spilled a cup of coffee, causing a stain on the rug. Should he have insisted that he send it to the cleaner? He didn't do so—H. M.

Answer—Although it is always advisable to make apologies for minor accidents at table, as brief and quiet as possible, your friend, in this case, should most certainly have insisted to his hostess that he repair the damage for which he was responsible. But such accidents are nothing to be ashamed of, as they are apt to happen to the best-mannered guests at the best-regulated table. A less-serious accident should be deplored and then forgotten. The guest who dwells upon such incidents makes everyone feel uncomfortable.

DEAR Miss Markel—A few of my friends and I have had an argument as to how a married woman should sign her name to a telegram or a letter reserving hotel quarters. I maintain that it should be signed, "Mrs. Robert Morse." They say, "Edith Morse," omitting "Mrs." Who is right?—Edith.

Answer—You are correct. She should use the title "Mrs." as well as her husband's full name.

The World At A Glance

Neutrality Is Problem.
Many Shocked At Atrocities.
Claim Nazis Have Been Active.

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

IF THE SPANISH civil war does not end soon, three nations will have a peculiar neutrality problem on their hands. Large mass meetings are talked of in the United States, Great Britain and France to aid Spanish loyalists—with cash. France already has had such meetings, with demands that the government act. The Soviet Union forbade them—after cash had been collected. The cash, however, was ordered returned to the donors, according to dispatches.

Other groups in the United States, shocked by atrocities on the side of radicals, are emotionally affected and may have protest gatherings of their own.

The Spaniards are vicious fighters—and tales of atrocities come from both sides. But the boast of the rebel commanders that they will kill all the Republican office holders—and the evident slaughter of male inhabitants of towns they capture—have had a serious effect on their cause in what are termed the democratic countries.

One person remarks to this column: "These Loyalist Spaniards are going down in a fight to preserve democracy—and that vitally affects us."

While another person remarks: "These Communists may sweep through Europe—they've got to be stopped."

The majority of Americans seem to deprecate the fact that the revolt has caused the destruction of a democratic government—and that the stricken land now falls victim to two extremes, Fascism and Communism.

Governments, to be neutral, will have to discourage meetings favoring either one side or the other. Emotionalism is a prelude to international complications.

INFLAMMATORY

It does not take long for tales of horror—of deeds perpetrated on innocent townspeople—to arouse the emotions of other peoples.

For example, it was not the destruction of the warship Maine in Havana harbor as much as the tales of brutality visited upon Cuban workers by the Spanish military that swept the United States into the Spanish-American war. Cuba was near at hand, Spain is far away—thus the same degree of emotionalism would not arise now. But France is close to Spain; and Great Britain is not far.

And anyone who reads French or British newspapers now must see how the horror tales are arousing fear—fear that Naziism will overspread all Europe.

What Noted People Say

LONDON—Mrs. Beryl Markham asks the world to forget the phrase "society woman" in talking about her.

"I have no pretensions, and I fail to see what the accident of birth has to do with flying over the ocean."

CARMEL, Cal.—Artist Hal Garrott protests against a nudist exhibit. "They'll get away with it because they'll say it's artistic, but a nude is a nude any place."

HOLLYWOOD—Producer David P. Selznick refuses to view with alarm the death of Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn.

"The typical American boy has not disappeared from the scene, despite the fact our studio has looked at 10,000 boys without finding a Tom Sawyer. We will continue looking until we find him."

CHICAGO—Eleanor Holm Jarrett just can't seem to forget champagne.

Words of Wisdom

Bad men excuse their faults, good men will leave them.—Ben Johnson.

Sept. 8 In State Histories: 1565—

Copyright, 1936, Central Press Association
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Paragraphs in Asphalt:

The "watch game," one of the oldest sucker baits in the world, is played with such efficiency and precision nightly in the neighborhood of Broadway and 42nd Street that it is worth watching as an exercise in pure teamwork.

The "pitchman," with a bag of tin imitation wrist watches under his arm—they are worth perhaps three or four cents apiece in wholesale lots—stands in the lee of a doorway and watches the ebb and flow of the crowd. When the crush surges about him most furiously his four "shills" or assistants go to work at a signal.

He moves forward perhaps a foot into the human press. The "shills" make for him with such cries as "Gimme mine. I asked you first!" And "I'll take two" and "Here! I want one of those, too!" He begins to pass out the watches and gather in quarters from his plants, with a furtive air and low murmurs of "Quick, boys, only few left. I see a cop coming."

By that time the immemorial contagion has spread. Customers are pressing in from the crowd to buy, quarters eagerly extended. In perhaps a minute and a half the little game is over and the ring-leaders have faded back into the crowd. The buyers, a block away, are examining their worthless watches and grinning dourly. They are, of course, much too ashamed to protest.

This is the simplest and most effective of the little frauds of the metropolitan streets. A skilled operator can amass a hundred dollars a week at it. Buy you can't help feeling that with his shrewdness and miming ability he could earn even more honestly.

One of the toughest-looking gentlemen I know is the newsdealer who sells me papers after midnight. He is a vast, hairy and flat-nosed fellow with ox-killing biceps. The type movie extra bureaus like to get for underworlding background.

Yet the other night when I picked up a fifty-cent magazine, in the belief that it was a new issue, he bubbled out with: "Begging your pardon, sir, but I believe you've perused that magazine already. Unless I'm much mistaken, I sold you a copy less than a week ago."

He was right; and I strolled toward home reflecting on the unreliability of a book's cover in judging its contents.

Before Harry Richman and Dick Merrill took off for their trans-Atlantic flight dozens of folk wrote them from all points of the compass with the identical and ingenious scheme: why didn't they autograph the 30,000 ping-pong balls which had been shoveled into the wings of the plane for buoyancy and sell them to fans at a couple of bucks apiece?

"Thumber" Travels Over 7,500 Miles

Fifteen Year Old Boy Establishes A Record In Past Seven Weeks

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 8.—Over 7,500 miles, through 21 states and two countries by thumb.

That was the record established by a 15-year-old Pittsburgh Boy Scout this summer in seven weeks. Ready for school again, Ronald "Bud" Dove returned home from a jaunt to California by way of Mexico.

In two summers he had been able to span the continent. Last summer the adventurous lad hiked to the Atlantic seaboard and at the time determined to reach the Pacific coast in 1936.

Relating his experiences to friends and newspaper reporters, Bud enthused:

"It was a lot of fun and gave me a chance to see places I had never visited before. The whole trip was dandy. It was cheap as anything. I slept in the open and had great luck in my rides. Everybody was awfully nice and I had little trouble getting lifts along the road. I guess I didn't walk more than ten miles or so and that was only through big cities."

"I got a big kick out of going down into Mexico. When I crossed the border I had to pay two cents."

While in California Bud got another kick. He visited Dick Powell, once a Pittsburgh resident, and chatted with him at the movie star's home.

Outfitted with a Boy Scout uniform and a pack on his back, he began his trip with only $30 and returned with $5 he hadn't used.

Numbers Writers Cases Are Before Mercer Grand Jury

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Sept. 8.—Eighteen numbers writers and operators are held for September court on eight cases charging gambling. Their cases are carded for grand jury hearing when that body convenes the morning of September 8. Should pleas be entered by the defendants to these actions there will be no September criminal court session is the today announcement of District Attorney Edwin C. Moon.

Moon does not know what action may be taken and is preparing for the holding of the court sessions despite the fact that the 105 cases for the term has been so reduced by pleas and postponed hearings that should the numbers cases follow suit not enough cases to warrant the holding of the term will be left.

The court postponement will mean a savings of $5,000 to the county in fees of witnesses, jurors and other costs. Moon stated today that definite decision on the criminal court of the term carded to open September will be known before the grand jury completes its findings expected by September 10.

Puts New Plan In Operation

One of the best plans for the registering of delegates for the 74th convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association, which is to convene at the Cathedral, New Castle, October 14, 15, 16, was put in operation at the First Baptist Sabbath school last Sunday.

A talk was given at the opening of the Adult Department explaining the many inspirational and instructive features of the convention which has on its program over fifty of the outstanding Christian leaders and Sabbath School specialists of the world. Then were enumerated just what the small registration fee of one dollar for the convention included—a convention badge that admits to all sessions of the convention, a convention song book, a year's subscription to the Pennsylvania Herald, the convention Hand Book and program, the right to vote on all matters coming before the convention, the right to serve on committees and sing in convention choir and other privileges.

Following this talk nine young people who had been appointed visited the various adult classes and the officers and teachers, to secure registrations. These young people when they secure 10 registrations each will be entitled to a complimentary registration.

The response was gratifying and it is thought that by next Sunday the quota for the First Baptist Sunday school of 100 registered delegates will be reached. The Womens class taught by D. S. Williams has the highest number of registrations of any one class—eighteen.

North American Indians, born within the territorial limits of the United States, were given citizenship under an act passed in 1921.

A special luncheon menu was served at noon, and in the evening, an elaborate holiday supper was served in the dining room, to attending guests.

moderates and anarchists, who demand a fight to the end; and no new fires were reported.

San Sebastian is now practically surrounded by land, with the eastern column of Gen. Emilio Mola's troops nearest the city. His army, moving westward from charred Irun has taken passages, which was also reduced to ashes, and Renteria.

Column Is Moving

The other main rebel column is moving northward along the Lasarte road.

Six hundred militiamen, according to reports on the French side of the border, fled San Sebastian for Bilbao in small boats, almost under the guns of the rebel cruiser Espana, which yesterday bombarded the resort from the harbor.

Claude G. Bowers, the United States ambassador to Spain, has removed from his hotel here to a villa near St. Jean Le Luz, but it is expected that the rest of the embassy staff will stay in their Hendaye hotel until it closes for the season a month hence.

American refugees arriving from Bilbao and Madrid stated today that supplies of food in those Loyalist-held cities are running low.

Report Street Fighting

Hendaye, France, Sept. 8.—Basque nationalists and their fellow defenders of San Sebastian, anarchists were reported fighting each other today in the streets of the once beautiful seaside resort, which was believed near capture by rebels who doubled intensity of artillery and machine gun fire from the mountains.

The Nationalists desired to surrender the city immediately to the steadily advancing rebels in order to prevent the anarchists from looting, pillaging and burning it, as they did nearby Irun last week under similar conditions.

The governor reached his desk early after having attended the state American Legion convention in Wichita yesterday. There, he delivered a speech pleading with organized labor to heal the breach within the ranks of the American Federation of Labor provoked by the row over "industrial unionism". He told labor it would not promote the best interests of the workman without being united.

To Legionnaires everywhere he urged a three-fold program—tolerance, good citizenship and preservation of peace. He declared united action by the Legion was necessary to obtain good government in the cities, states and nation.

Soviets Gird Against War

Believe Fascist Enemies Are Getting Ready To Attack Soviet Russia

WAR MANEUVERS ARE BEING HELD

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Sept. 8.—Fascist enemies are prepared to attack us, but we are ready for them," Klement Voroshilov, Soviet war minister, told a cheering audience today in opening three-day military maneuvers in the Minsk region.

"We have been waiting for them for a long time," Voroshilov added. "We still have many enemies," he said, "enemies within the country and stronger enemies without."

Voroshilov added that the "entire Soviet union" was staunchly protected against these enemies.

Greeted Like Hero

Voroshilov, accompanied by Marshal Budenny, Yegorov and Tukhachevski, was greeted like a conquering hero by the thousands lined up before him. They tossed flowers and shouted again and again:

"Long live the valiant Red army!"

"We begin the maneuvers," said General Ubovich, chief of the White Russian forces, "excellently equipped with first class military technique, prepared to defeat any number of enemies."

It was regarded as significant that the maneuvers were staged on the Polish border, in proximity to Germany. Presence of British staff officers in addition to the French and Czechs was a hint of a possible new Anglo-Soviet mutual assistance pact, according to some observers.

At Kiev were launched air and chemical defense maneuvers, with 1,500,000 citizens taking part.

The Soviet press generally carried stirring accounts of the war games, based on an extremely patriotic note.

Today

remaining in France are sent here and take long walks through the old druid forests, singing marching songs, led by tall, thin, young priests.

MADAME LAUBIGNAT, whose husband keeps the biggest store, loses her brother through death. M. Laubignat tells me:

"Too bad, but he worked too hard. He had three fishing boats very heavy. For the last fifteen years, he has had heart disease, and in spite of that, he handled those heavy boats. He was bound to die."

All business in the village ceased as the funeral procession went by. The modest little hearse, well decorated, drawn by one horse; men of the village in bare heads, not related, standing on either side of the narrow street, the bereaved relatives following on foot to the church and the cemetery; assistant priests or vicars, walking behind the hearse, followed by small altar boys in appropriate costumes; then a very tall, young priest singing the funeral service as he walked, and behind him, in richly embroidered, religious costume Monsieur Le Cure, the priest in charge of the old village church, and the inhabitants of the village.

Among the rows of men that stand bareheaded as the funeral passes, and those that follow the dead man to his grave, not one doubts that heaven and eternal rest await him at the end of his long life of sixty-eight years on the rough water. If anybody raised the question on that point he would be thought mildly insane.

Faith is there, but with the news of horrors in Spain there is deep anxiety. An elderly Sister of Charity accompanied by a thin pale faced sister, much younger—"She can speak a little English if you like," the older sister says—come to ask something for the poor of the village. Her lips trembling, the older one asks:

"Can you tell us if there is any better news today, we do not read the newspapers. Have you any better news for us?"

There is, unfortunately, no better news. The sister accepts, gratefully, the sum given for the poor and would have accepted as gratefully had it been less. They turn and walk away, slowly, mournfully, deep anxiety for their sisters beyond the Pyrenees preoccupying them. In manner and in movement they recall Sterne's description of the gentle, old Abbe.

It seems impossible to believe the hideous accounts of the mal treatment and cruel deaths inflicted upon such women in the civil war now raging in Spain.

That men should fight and murder each other is to be expected, since they are at best "half tiger, half monkey," and often the monkey gives way to the tiger. But that they should inflict shameful, ill-treatment and hideous death on defenseless women seems utterly unbelievable, even when you know what men are, in a mob.

Trains, Buses Are Packed On Holiday

Railroad and motor-bus travel in and out of New Castle over the Labor Day week end soared to new highs, it was learned in a check of rail and bus depots here today.

The railroads reported that extra sections of the through trains accommodated scores and the motor coach lines revealed that all buses were crowded and extras run.

New Castle's public square was a busy spot during most of the week end with travelers coming and going.

Accidents seemed to be something no one heard of insofar as the rail and bus operations were concerned. Traffic was extremely heavy along the roads but no mishaps occurred.

Princess Juliana Selects Consort

Young Prince To Marry Future Ruler Of The Netherlands

(International News Service)

THE HAGUE, Sept. 8.—Crown Princess Juliana has chosen as the consort who will some day sit beside her on the throne of the Netherlands

Prince Bernhard-Leopold of Lippe-Biesterfeld, member of one of the oldest noble families of Germany, official announcement of their engagement today revealed.

Their marriage will be held late this autumn, it was expected.

Princess Juliana is the only child of the 56-year-old Queen Wilhelmina. Prince Bernhard-Leopold, who is 25 years old, is two years the princess's junior.

For many years the Buxom and popular Dutch princess has been suggested, along with Swedish, Danish, German, and other royal young ladies, as a possible bride for King Edward of England, but there has never been any mention of the young Lippe prince, and his choice came as a surprise.

district, whether in or out of the county.

Those in charge are especially anxious to find new young voices.

WASHINGTON AT A GLANCE

Roosevelt Needs West For Victory

Republicans Count On Swinging New England, New York And Pennsylvania

PRESIDENT HAS SOUTH SEWED UP

Central Press Washington Bureau 602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Democrats point out, and Republicans concede, that President Roosevelt can lose the two big states of New York and Pennsylvania in November and still be re-elected.

Indeed, the Democrats, though of course they don't admit it, are not overly sure of either of this pair of electorally potent commonwealths. Update New York unquestionably is Republican. New Dealers are hopeful that Manhattan will offset it, but Tammany is split. It will give a Democratic majority, but doubtfully adequate to counteract the upstate folk. Pennsylvania normally is enormously Republican. It has not been so lately, but the G. O. P. believes it is about to revert to form. Democrats are afraid so, too.

So much for New York and Pennsylvania.

THE PROBLEM
The Republicans count on swinging New England—most of it, anyway. It is more than a reasonable surmise.

Ohio? The Republicans think they have better than an even chance there. But all this territory, even if Governor Landon carries it, will be Republicanly insufficient if Roosevelt sweeps the farther west and south. He is sure of the south.

If he loses in New England, New York, Pennsylvania and maybe Ohio, the White House tenant will have to hustle like sixty for a mightily solid west in order to win, but it is an essay in which, conceivably, he can succeed.

G. O. P. NEEDS NORTHEAST

The Kansan, on the other hand, cannot do without substantial northeastern support.

He can carry the west to his heart's content, but he cannot offset the Democrats' irreducible southern nucleus without northeastern help.

That southern nucleus! With that, and the bulk of the west to rely on, if he can, President Roosevelt can tell the populous northeast to "go hang".

But Governor Landon has not a nucleus to depend on.

He will lose a western state here and there; he must have a big "bloc" of eastern votes to give him a majority.

PIVOTAL STATES IMPORTANT

President Roosevelt, then, with his solid southern nucleus, can win if he can get New York, Pennsylvania and what he may pick up promiscuously.

Landon, with no nucleus, and a doubtful situation elsewhere, must carry the key states.

Illinois, Indiana, New Jersey, Missouri and small states like Maryland and Delaware, as well as queer states like Minnesota and Wisconsin, enter into the equation, but the big states are initially pivotal.

"SPLIT" STATES

The Dakotas can go one way or another.

Iowa for years has been Republican, but of late it has been Democratic. Nebraska is split three or four ways.

Still, Republicanism is divided. Time was when the Republicans agreed that they might be at odds between elections, but they always were consolidated at the polls. That is not true any more.

FOR DIGESTION'S SAKE ... SMOKE CAMELS

A CASHIER has to be alert—accurate—pleasant. Miss T. Lander, shown at the ticket window of a New York movie, says: "Camels help my digestion—cheer me up. They have a marvelous taste."

"I'M FOR CAMELS," says Al Mingalone, Paramount News newsreel cameraman. "My experience proves that Camels are a big aid to digestion."

LAWSON LITTLE won both British and American Amateur Titles for two years in a row. "Camels set me right," he says. "And at mealtimes, Camels make food taste better—help my digestion—give me a cheery 'lift'."

AT HARVEY'S famous restaurant in Washington, D. C., you enjoy the same dishes that delighted Mark Twain, Emerson, Booth, Taft, and other famous men. What cigarette is preferred here? Most emphatically, Camels. Julius Lulley, host at Harvey's, says: "Our diners agree on Camels. Those who prefer quality food appreciate Camel's costlier tobaccos."

Camels add zest to meals—aid digestion—increase alkalinity

RUSH and mental strain impede digestion by slowing down the flow of the digestive fluids so necessary to proper, smooth digestion. Smoking Camels assists digestion by increasing the flow of the alkaline digestive fluids in a pleasant and natural way.

It is thus that Science explains the sense of well-being that you experience after you dine and smoke Camels. Make Camel your cigarette. They set you right.

Costlier Tobaccos

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

STRESS HONORS TOO MUCH

"MY DEAR DR. MYERS: I surely do appreciate your personal reply to my letter. I have gotten so much help from your articles and many times have felt much more hopeful and cheered up after reading them."

"When you write that our children don't always come up to the standards we have raised for them, I think of what my dear mother used to say: 'We have to rear the child to the good Lord sent us, not the ones we might like to have.'"

Sometimes I wonder whether we don't stress scholarship and honor groups too much. I have one boy who always is in the first honor group and among the first in his class. My other son always has passed, but never with any honors, and yet his teachers love him, although he is rather troublesome at times. He is jolly, willing and a wonderful mixer, while the other is inclined toward solitude.

"It has been interesting to me to see two own brothers so different in every way."

Children Worry Too Much
Answer: Yes, I do believe we often place too much stress on school grades and honor rolls. Although we want our children to succeed at books, and acquire good habits of mental work, we need to be careful lest we stimulate some to take their lessons too seriously, even to worry over them. The very conscientious child whose family makes much ado about good school grades, may be the very kind of child who sticks too close to books and is alone too much. What he most needs is to learn to think of social play success as more important.

When, as in your family, one child excels at books and is low in social interest while the other excels socially and is only average at books, the bookish child becomes more bookish, the other less so. Just because the one achieves well at books he considers the line in which his brother excels to be of less importance. So the brother being less a student considers being a good fellow more to be desired. And so it goes. Two children with but slight difference in these respects may, as years go by, become still more widely different, varying always in the same opposing direction.

I am glad you find some encouragement in my column. I really want to offer cheer, hope and sympathy to parents, though I fear that I sometimes, unawares, say things that make some mothers worry. I do wish parents would think more often of their successes and not take too seriously the things we experts condemn. With all their love, sympathy, patience and wholesome honesty and integrity most other things are in the last analysis of not so great importance as we sometimes seem to think.

Organization Of Schools Started At Temple Israel

With the return of Rabbi Norman H. Diamond of Temple Israel to New Castle, the organization of the religious and Hebrew schools has begun to take shape. An increased enrollment in both schools is expected, which necessitates an early start. It is hoped that before the high holidays are past they will be in regular session. Registration will take place in the vestry rooms of the temple on Sunday morning, Sept. 13, from 10 o'clock to 12 noon. All interested parents are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity of matriculating their children at this time.

The first religious service prior to the observance of the New Year will be held on Friday evening at eight o'clock, Sept. 11.

Schools Open At Grove City

(Special To The News)
GROVE CITY, Sept. 8.—Sixty teachers of the local public and high schools met Monday with Supt. H. M. B. Lehn, to receive supplies and home-room assignments and to plan for the opening of school today.

Even with the addition of two extra teachers and with a new home-room set up in a portion of the library, the high school will be seriously crowded, Supt. Lehn reports. There will be at least 50 more pupils enrolled in the building this year. A portion of the basement has been fitted up as a manual training shop, a new department this year in charge of Wm. Ballentine, while the library room will accommodate a Commercial class, in charge of Norman Myers. Each of the four high school classes has heavy enrollments and one eighth grade room, housed in the high school building, is larger than usual.

Slippery Rock Term Is Opened

Larger Attendance At Butler County School Is Reported For Fall

SLIPPERY ROCK, Sept. 8.—Members of the board of trustees of Slippery Rock State Teachers College met yesterday at the college office with the president, Dr. C. S. Miller, to complete plans for the opening of the new school year. Dr. W. R. Hockenberry, president of the board, presided.

With advance registrations for the freshman class more than 20 per cent above last year's enrollment, a successful year is forecast. Many improvements of the campus and buildings have been completed during the summer.

The fall semester opens today when new students register. Upper classmen will be registered Thursday and regular classes resumed Friday. Several new faculty members have been elected to fill vacancies.

C. Wesley Batchelder has been elected to fill a vacancy caused by resignation of Dr. R. A. Talcott. Donald Shearer, a graduate of the Eastman School of Music, will be the studio teacher and will assist in the general music program.

Richard Flack, of Butler, was elected to fill a vacancy as storekeeper.

The board gave approval to a number of projects to reduce fire and panic hazards. These call for the construction of three fire towers, two on South hall and one on North hall to eliminate sub-standard fire escapes.

AROUND CITY HALL

There were no serious automobile accidents within the city limits Saturday night, Sunday and up to noon Labor Day, according to a study of police reports. Only one was injured and he received his injury in a collision at the Public Square.

Police were requested to seek several girls who were reported Saturday to have left their home. One of the girls went to a motion picture theater and did not return and two others departed, headed for Sandusky, O., according to reports.

With council having decided to have representation at the convention of the Cities of the Third Class at Lancaster, Pa., Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, city hall activities will probably be slow.

Byram, 76, In Connecticut

(International News Service) NORWALK, Conn., Sept. 8.—Investigation of the shooting of Harry E. Byram, 72, retired wealthy railroad magnate, termed by authorities attempted murder, took a new turn today.

Byram was shot with a .32-calibre pistol by his son-in-law, Donald Burdick, 36, New York broker and polo player, state police charged, to prevent discovery that he had drawn the full amount of stock valued at $25,000 placed in a New York bank in Byram's name, but under an arrangement whereby Burdick could borrow against it.

The shooting occurred outside the Hubbard barn in the presence of the girl and her younger brother, Gordon, 13. State troopers said the slaying climaxed a quarrel which started last May when Hubbard objected to Hessler's attentions to his sister because she was "too young" and because Hessler, a seaman, once served a reformatory term.

Hubbard, police said, readily admitted the shooting and said it occurred while he was struggling with Hessler for possession of the gun. He was held without bail for a further hearing.

New LOW COST ON LOANS

New Low Monthly Rates mean a substantial saving to Household Finance Customers

3% • 2%

on the first $100 of balance

on the unpaid balance over $700

Now, for example, the first monthly payment on a loan of $200, including principal and the monthly charge, is $15.00. Under the Pennsylvania Small Loan maximum the first payment is $17.00. This is on the basis of a 20 month loan. There is a similar, worthwhile saving on each of the 20 payments.

Table Shows Household Finance's New Low Rates

Here are the actual average monthly rates on simple interest basis permitted by the Pennsylvania Small Loan Law compared with Household's new low rates when loans are paid in 20 equal monthly installments.

Size of Loan	Household's New Low Rates
$ 50	3.00%—(Pennsylvania lawful rate 3.50%)
100	3.00%—(Pennsylvania lawful rate 3.50%)
200	2.74%—(Pennsylvania lawful rate 3.50%)
300	2.54%—(Pennsylvania lawful rate 3.50%)

Plead Guilty To Slaying Of Detroit Man

Wife Of Victim And "Extra Husband" Admit Killing, Pledge Eternal Love

SELF DEFENSE WILL BE PLEA

(International News Service)
LAKE CITY, Mich., Sept. 8.—Mrs. Eleanor Cook, 34, and her "extra husband," George Relyea, 27-year-old country fiddler and farmhand, today declared they would plead guilty to first degree murder charges in connection with the "eternal triangle" slaying of the woman's husband, William G. Cook, a Detroit tool maker.

They will be arraigned before Circuit Judge Fred S. Lamb, of Cadillac, sometime today.

Will Be Waiting
Mrs. Cook, allowed to see the hired hand in the Missaukee county jail after both had confessed the crime, said:

"I'll be waiting for you, darling, if it's 20 years."

"So will I, darling," asserted Relyea. "I don't care how long it is."

Both admitted the slaying late yesterday, police announced, after denying it since the body was discovered Saturday morning in a remote region near Alma. They declared they left the body locked in Cook's car after he was killed by two shotgun charges at the shack where Mrs. Cook lived with Relyea who she married two months ago without divorcing Cook.

Self Defense

"I'm not afraid to admit it," said the farmhand. "He tried to get me with a knife and I got him first."

Describing the shooting of Cook, he stated:

"I shot him one in the shoulder and he did not fall. He said 'I'll get you for this if it's the last thing I do.' When he said that I slipped another shell into the gun and let him have it in the neck. He didn't say anything after that."

Says Maine Will Go Republican

Hamilton Says G. O. P. To Make Big Gains In Maine Election Outcome

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Maine will go Republican in the November election by 50,000 to 100,000, and as Maine goes so goes the nation.

That was the optimistic prediction today of John Hamilton, G. O. P. national chairman, who scoffed at the quoted odds of 7 to 5 for Roosevelt in the national campaign.

Insisting that the odds should be "even at least," Hamilton said:

"Though Farley says I'm a bad guesser, I predict we will elect three congressmen in Maine, a gain of two, a Republican governor and senator. I think this trend will be reflected all over the country."

"Why did Farley send no national speakers into Maine to defend the New Deal? Why has Gov. Brann, the Democratic candidate for senator, never mentioned Roosevelt in his speeches? Why has neither Farley nor any representative gone into Maine?"

"Isn't it a fact that there was an understanding with Democratic candidates who didn't want to be embarrassed by the national administration taking part in the campaign?"

"Farley ought to know how Maine is going; if he doesn't, let him ask his statistician."

ONE SURVIVOR IS IN HOSPITAL

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 8.—As Linda McDonald, 17-year-old Miami, Fla., high school girl, the only survivor, tossed on her hospital cot attempting to wipe the memory of the catastrophe from her mind, the last of the 10 fire-seared victims of the wrecked sight-seeing plane, the "Skyways," were borne to their graves today.

So faithfully were the victims burned, that caskets were carefully sealed against prying eyes.

Meanwhile, preliminary investigation disclosed that the plane was carrying one passenger more than its normal load when it took off on its ill-fated trip from the county airport last Saturday night. Its capacity was nine passengers and a pilot but it carried ten.

On the seat beside Eric Beckley, 35, rode his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Slier, Utica, N. Y. There were no empty seats so she sat on one improvised from an empty flare box. Both died in the crash.

Hundreds Fly

Despite the tragedy, the most serious in the Pittsburgh district since the TWA Sun-Racer crashed in the mountains near Uniontown, hundreds of sightseers went aloft from the airport Labor Day to fly over the scene of the "Skyways" wreck. All sight-seeing planes operating from the airport said their business increased tremendously.

Federal investigators were seeking to determine whether the one extra passenger hampered the ability of the plane to navigate when the pilot sought to return to the airport as he ran into trouble soon after the takeoff.

The ship's three motors were being closely inspected today by federal, state and county probers. The motors were removed from the wreckage and stored under guard. Some observers had theorized one or more possibly all three motors went "dead."

It was not immediately determined whether and when public hearings will be held. Thousands of persons were at the airport Saturday night watching the big transport planes take off and alight so that innumerable witnesses of the "Skyways" takeoff could be obtained. Only those who saw the "Skyways" flight from beginning to end will be summoned.

Only Survivor
Miss McDonald was the only survivor and almost miraculously she believes she battered her way through a window as the craft blazed on all sides. She made a vain attempt to rescue her "best boy friend," John Powers, 19, also of Miami, but was unable to extricate him from under a mass of jumbled bodies.

It was not determined whether Miss McDonald would be asked to appear at the hearing. She has already told her story to probers at the hospital and since she can give little or no technical testimony it was doubtful whether she will be called. Probers allowed her a full day of rest at the hospital. In addition to Powers, two other young couples, high school students, and her friends, one of whom had given a dinner party for her, died in the tragedy.

Bandit Shoots La Crosse Man

Strange Attack Related By Business Man Who Grappled With Armed Bandit

(International News Service)
LA CROSSE, Wis., Sept. 8.—James H. Furber, 51 La Crosse business man, had an even chance for recovery today after being shot by a robber in a strange attack.

Furber told police that he was abducted by a bandit who approached him as he stood beside his car yesterday afternoon. The bandit at pistol point forced Furber to drive to a lonely spot eighteen miles out of town.

At this point, Furber said, the bandit robbed him of $4 and ordered Furber to get down on his knees. "Get down and start praying because I am going to shoot you," the robber told him.

Grapples With Gunman
Furber started to comply and then seized the bandit's gun. The two men struggled but finally the thug shot Furber in the head. The gunman then fled but returned a few minutes later and finding Furber alive, fired four more bullets at his victim. Two of the shots struck Furber in the chest.

The bandit then drove away in Furber's car.

Furber crawled to the road and attracted the attention of a motorist who summoned aid, and he was taken to a hospital. Furber gave police a good description of the bandit.

Lehman Takes Hand In Case

Blocks Move To Broaden And Amend Charges Against District Attorney

(International News Service)
ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 8.—A sensational prosecution move to amend and broaden the removal charges against District Attorney William F. X. Geoghan of Brooklyn was blocked today by Governor Lehman.

Special Prosecutor Hiram C. Todd attempted to change the bribery charges against Geoghan, in the midst of the trial, to include the allegation that former Assistant District Attorney William W. Kleinman sought to persuade Detective Charles F. Corbett to stop investigating the Drukman murder case.

When Todd offered in evidence a $300 bank deposit by Kleinman, made shortly before the original grand jury refused to indict the Drukman slayers, Governor Lehman held that the evidence was not pertinent because there was nothing in the charges against Geoghan referring to alleged bribery on the part of Kleinman.

It is alleged that Stevens' income is now around $200 per month and that for the past six months it has averaged $180 per month. Judge Braham fixed September 16 as a date for hearing testimony on the petition.

Ellwood Stone Co. Presents Protest

Charges Better Rates Given Competitors By Two Railroad Companies

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—A charge by the Ellwood City Stone Company, Ellwood City, Pa., that two railroads are discriminating against it by charging it higher sand shipping rates than those paid by competitors, must be met by the railroads, it was learned today at the interstate commerce commission.

In a complaint filed today with the interstate commerce commission by the Ellwood Stone Company it was claimed that the Erie railroad and the Pennsylvania railroad were forcing it to pay $2.27 per 2,000 pounds on shipments of sand sent from Koppel, Pa., to Buffalo, N. Y.

Since firms competing with the Ellwood City concern are paying only $1.60 per net ton, Ellwood Stone company claims the two railroads are discriminating against it and charging it tariffs that are "unjust and unreasonable and in violation of the interstate commerce act."

Interstate commerce officials said the two railroads would be given an opportunity to answer the charge and to present evidence showing why they were charging the Ellwood City firm the higher rates before officials would act on the complaint.

Besides requesting the interstate commerce commission to make the railroads stop making it pay the high rate, the Ellwood City concern is asking the commission to award it damages for the amounts it has been paying for shipments in excess of the $1.60 rate.

Competitors in the sand shipping business which have had the benefit of the lower tariff are located at Foxburg and Falls Creek, Pa., and Cleveland, O., the Ellwood City firm stated.

Coach Mitchell Will Brush Up Team This Week

Second Scrimmage Saturday Does Not Please Ellwood High Coaches

BLOCKING TECHNIQUE NEEDS IMPROVEMENT

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—Ellwood City high football squad will spend all this week in brushing up on what knowledge they have already obtained. Coach Bill Mitchell announced today. This was the reaction following Saturday morning's two-hour scrimmage session.

Coach Mitchell and Assistant, "Dutch" Croft used their first three clubs of 80 candidates in the scrimmage, with frequent substitutions from the remainder of the squad. But he mostly kept the first two teams intact. The scrimmage session showed that the squad was in fine physical shape, the ball handling was all right, but improvements were needed in ball carrying and blocking technique. The ball carriers were not always cognizant of the fact that the ball must be shifted from arm to arm if one is to use the straight arm effectively. Also too much tendency was shown to use the shoulder block when a body block would be more effective. The backfield did not have the timing of the snap back from center and as a result were receiving the ball behind instead of forward.

All these things Coach Mitchell intends to have corrected before he sends his first eleven against Coach Dave Morgan Boyd's proteges of Union Township next week. Most of this week will be spent in brushing up in the knowledge already obtained by the griders.

The first team last Saturday was composed of Planagan and Bartle at the ends, Dauin and H. Young at the tackles, Perry and Keller at the guards, Fishoner, center, Koah, quarterback; W. Young and Funari at the halves, and Leopardi at full. The second team had Ottaviano and Sam, ends; Santillo and Rupert, tackles; Bowci and Gib, guards; Berend, center; Jones, quarterback; Snare and Galati, at the halves, and Myers, fullback. These combinations showed that both lines are powerful and heavy and there is speed galore in the backfield. Coach Mitchell has two good passers in Young and Jones, but his chief worry is a punter. Funari gets off some good punts but is not consistent. Jones is also developing in this department. Planagan has shown the best prospects to date.

Offer Ten Courses At Night School

Most Essential And Advantageous Courses To Be Offered Local Public

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—Ellwood City night school will give instruction in ten subjects this year, the subjects chosen because of the demand shown during previous years. The subjects cover a wide field and it is hoped that the immediate needs of the students will be met.

Beginning and advanced courses will be given in shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, sewing, shop mathematics, cabinet making, and mechanical drawing. In addition to these, courses will be offered in Americanization, business, English, and gymnasium for men and women. This wide variety of subjects is necessary so that the greatest possible number of people will benefit. The more than three hundred students who registered for these courses last year can testify to their popularity and need.

If your interest is commercial you have shorthand, bookkeeping, typewriting, or English to choose from. If it's recreation you want, gymnasium will be your selection. If you work in a shop or mill, shop mathematics or mechanical drawing will help you. If you enjoy making things with your hands you will select sewing or cabinet making to help you with your work. Regardless of your present skill, night school can help you improve your output. Avail yourself of the opportunities offered by your own night school.

You can register for these classes, Wednesday and Friday evenings September 9 and 11, in the Lincoln school building between 7 and 9 o'clock.

The Ellwood City night school in its effort to meet the needs of Ellwood City students is continuing its policy of giving full high school credit for the satisfactory completion of any night school course. Since its recognition by the State Department of Education, any work completed in night school may be used toward high school graduation.

This announcement is of utmost importance to any student who was forced to leave before he graduated. It furnishes a way to get a high school diploma, the diploma which is important to use days when competition for jobs is so keen. In cases where one or two credits is needed for graduation it means but one year of thirty weeks in night school. For others needing more credits the time will be longer but the final gain makes any expenditure of time worth while. Several former students have graduated from Ellwood City high school by getting the credits they needed in night school.

Night school courses carrying full day school credit include shorthand, typewriting, bookkeeping, business English, mechanical drawing, and shop mathematics. Anyone can register for these courses at the Lincoln high school, September 9 or 11 between the hours of 7:00 to 9:00. A deposit of $2.50 is required for registration, this deposit to be returned if seventy-five percent of the classes are attended. The classes meet on Monday and Thursday of each week and continue for thirty weeks.

School Reunion At Wurttemberg

Some Of First Pupils At School 64 Years Ago Attend Reunion Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 8.—The presence of Mrs. Salina Fisher Updegraph of Princeton; Mrs. Lucella Pyle Morrison; Mrs. Elizabeth Rapp McElwain; Aaron Murray, William Glasser and James Rapp, all of this vicinity, at the first reunion of the former teachers and pupils of the old red brick school at Wurttemberg, was remarkable and outstanding in that they attended the first sessions of school held in that building sixty-four years ago.

About three hundred persons returned yesterday with fond memories to view the building where they learned the three R's, sometimes under strict teachers, and to again recall many happy events of their childhood. There was a tinge of sadness in the hearts of many when their thoughts returned to many of their schoolmates who down across the years have passed to the other side.

At noon the group partook of a most bountiful picnic menu with a number of local ladies serving the guests.

The session opened with a number of interesting remarks by Mrs. R. H. Kirk after which a period of singing favorite old melodies was most enjoyed. The president, Charles Mehler, presided and many of the group told experiences and events which were most vivid in their recollection of school events.

Mrs. Salina Updegraph, who was among the oldest persons of the group, recounted events which occurred during the first days of the school, telling of the seating arrangements, methods of teaching, etc., which are much changed from the present day methods.

Prior to the completion of this building school was held in the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church for a period of time as told by Mrs. Mary Slingoub of Ellwood who contributed a history of the school.

A former pupil and teacher, Mrs. Maude Liebenfelder Turner, of Harrisburg, recalled many familiar incidents which occurred during her school days. Charles French of Harrisburg described many amusing experiences which marked his school days as happy ones. Prof. Chambers of New Castle, who taught this school many years ago, gave a number of worthwhile remarks. A great many others told briefly of their outstanding memories of years long gone by.

A business meeting was held and it was decided to make the reunion an annual event with the next one to occur on July 4, 1937. The reunion will not be held again on Labor Day owing to a reunion of Number 4 school of Perry township which is held on that date.

The following officers were elected to serve for one year: President, James Liebenfelder, Ellwood; vice president, Roy McElwain, Ellwood; secretary, Mrs. Emil Boots, Wurttemberg and treasurer, Mrs. Jacob Glasser, Wurttemberg. Various committees will be later named by the officers.

A group picture was taken at the close of the afternoon session. The officers and local committees who worked untiringly to make the event the outstanding success that it was, are due a full measure of credit for their splendid work.

Steels Set Active Pace In Stock Market Today, New Peaks Reached

By LESLIE GOULD International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—With steels setting an active pace, the stock market continued strong today.

A long list of new peaks for the year was chalked up, including most of the pivotal steel shares, a number of rails and a few merchandising issues.

Bethlehem, U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube climbed into new high ground for the year on gains of well over a point.

New 1936 peaks were reached by Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central and Southern Pacific, while Illinois Central equalled its best price for the year.

Others to make new tops for the year were American Telephone, up nearly two points; International Nickel and Sears Roebuck up more than a point each, and Spiegel May-Stern, which spurted more than three points on a sharp increase in August sales.

In the motor department, Chrysler ran up 1 1/2, Auburn a point and General Motors almost as much. Packard equalled its 1936 high of 13 in active dealings.

Farm equipment and food shares lagged through the better part of the forenoon. Utilities, aviation and chemicals were higher. DuPont in the latter rising more than four points.

Strength in foreign and domestic corporate liens featured the bond market. Cotton was improved, but grains lost ground.

Giants Capture Two, Cubs And Cardinals Lose

New York Giants Need Eight More Victories To Clinch League Pennant

ALL-NEW YORK SERIES LOOMING

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service
Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—After what happened yesterday, the National League pennant race has reached that stage where "if" holds the answer to where the Giants are headed and when they will arrive.

Having earned the pennant with brilliant winning stretch and retained rights to it in spite of themselves in more recent games, they come back to a double victory yesterday while the Cards and Cubs were dropping a pair each, left them set to pack the flag away by the beginning of next week if —

It all centers around whether they can continue to win through a series with the Cards next Sunday and Monday, meanwhile knocking off the Cubs. Thereafter, it would be even beyond the "ifs."

Giants Win Pair
Hence the Giants need eight more games to be assured of a tie for a pennant, and beginning tomorrow they will be bent upon snaring them at the Polo Grounds, today being an off-day.

With Carl Hubbell winning his 12th straight and 22nd of the season, the Giants took yesterday's opener, 6 to 2, then started Smith, called on Castleman and finished with Coffman to snare the nightcap 14 to 11 in their holiday twin bill with the Reds, playing before a crowd of 22,000, a record for Philadelphia this season.

The Cards scored a total of two runs against the Pirates and lost two games, 4 to 1 and 14 to 1, with Waite Hoyt getting the decision over Dizzy Dean in the first. The Pirates then took the second by making 18 hits off virtually everybody on the Cards staff, except Dizzy in the second game.

Cubs Drop Two
Keeping step with the backtracking Cards, the Cubs bowed humbly to the Reds, 6 to 2 and 8 to 4, and with that presumably bowed out.

The Dodgers beat the Giant-killing Bees, 2 to 1, then lost 4 to 1. The Yankees approached a step nearer to the inevitable by stretching their lead to 18 games in the American League, beating the Athletics, 4 to 3 and 8 to 3.

Gomez pitched shutout ball for eight innings in the opener, and Murphy saved the game for him in the ninth, while Ruffing turned in a six-hitter in the nightcap.

Indians Split
The Tigers and White Sox remained in a second place tie, the former winning, 8 to 7, then losing by the same score in reverse, while the Indians clung to third with an even break against the Browns, who took the first, 6 to 4, then ran into Bob Feller again in the second and dropped it, 7 to 1. Feller allowed only seven hits and increased his total of strikeouts over the Browns to 25. He got 15 in a previous game and 10 yesterday.

The Senators took one from the Red Sox, 6 to 4, then dropped the afterpiece, 4 to 5.

Firemen Take Deciding Game From Ryantown

Fifth Game Of Series Ends 7 To 5, Witherow Fine In Relief Role

TOMMY MAHER CRASHES HOMER

Sixth Ward Firemen defeated Ryantown in the fifth and deciding game of the current five game series. The game was played at the popular Lee avenue field before one of the largest crowds to ever witness a game at the west side field this year.

Manager Joe Zeigler chose Peck Huston to take the mound against the Sixth ward rivals, but the lads from Ryantown went to work in the first three innings to score five runs. Huston was found for seven hits and four runs during the 2 and 3 innings he toiled on the mound. At this point of the game, Manager Zeigler then called his curve ball ace "Dick" Witherow to take over the pitching assignment, and he hurled a masterpiece during the remaining six innings. Witherow was so stingy with his hits that from the third inning on, he did not allow a man to reach third base. He allowed but two hits and they were scattered. He fanned two of the Ryantown boys. It was one of the finest jobs of relief hurling ever demonstrated at the Lee avenue field.

For Ryantown, Manager Joe Samuels elected to use his ace, VanEman and he hurled a steady game until the eighth inning. The Firemen went to work in the third inning and scored three runs. From then on, the Firemen had no trouble with VanEman and they hit him freely during the remaining innings to finally drive him from the mound in the eighth inning. Ed. Carey relieved him and the Firemen continued their barrage of hitting.

Heavy hitting featured the game, with Tommy Maher driving out a long home run with one man on base to prove the longest hit of the game. He also received credit for a single. Uram with a triple, was the next longest hit of the game. Bill Gall and Coughlin received credit for doubles.

Trailing five to four, going into the eighth inning, the Firemen opened up their "bar of tricks" and Joe Zeigler sent in dependable Tom McCormick as a pinch-hitter and he promptly came through with a single. T. Maher then laid down a perfect sacrifice. J. Maher was then sent in as a pinch-hitter, and he also singled to score McCormick and tying up the ball game. This was not enough, the Firemen continued their hitting and the Coulter brothers came through, each with a single to score one more run. B. Gall then drove in run number seven with a fielders choice to end one of the finest games ever played at the Lee avenue field.

Firemen-Ryantown Will Play Again

Ryantown Protests Several Decisions By Umpires At Lee Avenue Field

Manager Joe Zeigler of the Sixth Ward Firemen baseball team has agreed to take his championship Firemen to Ryantown field for another baseball game on Sunday, Sept. 20, it was announced today by Frank Heasley, the Ryantown business manager.

The fans will no doubt welcome the announcement of this game for more than one reason.

The Ryantown team today is loud in protesting several decisions made in the game yesterday at Lee avenue field by Umpires Mooney, Severa and "Red" Mahalic. Ryantown towns continued through Heasley that even the fans were with Ryantown on several of the decisions.

Manager Joe Samuels still thinks that Ryantown is the better ball club of the two, and hopes to prove it at the next meeting.

Correct this sentence: "I know she understands our national problems," said he, "for she's a wonderful bridge player."

West Pittsburg Tops Hillsville

Tonsettic Outpitches Pepe In Game At Hillsville, Score 9 To 4

West Pittsburg, with Tonsettic doing a steady pitching act, upset the Hillsville team of the County League at the Hillsville field 9 to 4, on Monday. Although found for 10 hits, the West Pittsburg ace hurler kept them scattered.

The winners found J. Pepe for 14 hits. The Markey brothers featured for the West Pittsburg team with extra base hits. Pepe and Marshall did the best hitting for the losers.

A five-run attack in the seventh put the game on the proverbial "ice" for the West Pittsburgers.

Yankees Are Virtually "In"

Yanks Can Clinch American League Flag By Defeating Cleveland On Wednesday

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—Mathematically assured of a tie for the American League pennant even if they lost every remaining game, the powerful New York Yankees today moved on to Cleveland where if the fates are kind, they can clinch the pennant by winning tomorrow's game.

The Yanks are eighteen games in front of their nearest rivals, the Chicago White Sox and the Detroit Tigers, with only eighteen games to play. Even if the Yanks boot away each remaining game and the Tigers and White Sox win all their worst the Yanks can get is a tie.

In the main bout Ali Baba, former champion of the world, threw Walter Podolack of Syracuse in 21 minutes. This bout gave the fans some holds not seen here before and for the first 15 minutes Podolack seemed to have an edge over the moustachioed Turk.

Walter began his usual rushes which usually soften his opponent for the fall. After three of them the Turk met Podolack's rush with two clenched fists and the lad from Syracuse went down like a malleted ox. Ali Baba held for the required three seconds and the bout was over in 21 minutes. They both weighed 265 pounds.

In the semi-final Bad Boy Brown, a newcomer locally, wasn't bad enough to take Tony Marchoni, a favorite here, Tony winning in 31 minutes with a body slam. Brown apparently essayed to live up to his cognomen and twice threw Marchoni out of the ring. This, accompanied with plenty of arm wrapping tactics on the ropes, rabbit punching and a few other choice tactics, had the crowd on Brown's neck. Tony finally played rough alone with the Shreveport, La. boy and took him. Both weighed 185.

Racer Killed At Washington

Stuebenville, Ohio, Auto Racer Meets Death, Spectators Have Close Call

(Washington, Pa., Sept. 8.—) Suffering a broken back when his car went out of control, crashed through a fence and overturned three times during the annual Labor Day racing events at Arden Downs speedway, Mike Casie, Stuebenville, O., racing driver, lay dead here today.

Three spectators, sitting on a bank 40 feet from the curve where Casie was killed, miraculously escaped death or injury when the careening car hurtled directly over their heads.

Casie was killed while pacing the field in the second racing event of the holiday program. He was just coming into the third lap of the race when his machine suddenly skidded crazily and crashed through the wooden fence.

Authorities at the track said that apparently nothing could be directly blamed for the tragedy. No tires had blown, they said.

Howard Cox of Dallas, Texas, won the event which continued even after the fatal accident.

The three spectators who escaped unhurt were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Garrison of West Liberty, W. Va., and Mrs. Sally Cook of Washington, Pa.

Penn State Grid Squad In Action

Candidates Report For Initial Workout—Kominic Is Among Veterans

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 8.—Thirty-eight of Penn State's 1936 football squad are expected to respond to Coach Bob Higgins' early call for practice and report this afternoon for the campaign's initial workout.

This group will comprise the advance guard—the chosen few who have been selected as the tentative first squad. The assemblage of 11 freshmen, 15 sophomores and a dozen others who have had one or more years of varsity experience, will probably be augmented by at least a dozen more who will straggle in during the week and bring the squad up to its battle strength of fifty.

Veterans who will report are: Captain Chuck Chermundolo, center; Lou Barth and Johnny Economos, guards; Roy Schulyer and Dan De Marino, tackles; Frank Smith, end; Frank O'Hara, Tommy Silvano, Rabbit Wear, and Walter Kominic, backs. Paul Enders, who won a major emblem last season as a center, will be shifted to the backfield department this year. Coach Higgins is converting him into a defensive halfback.

With the addition of Earle Edwards and Marty McAndrews to the coaching staff, replacing Herman Everhardus and Nels Walke, Penn State will boast an all-graduate regime for the first time. Edwards is slated to assist with the varsity, while McAndrews will handle the freshmen.

Coach Higgins will find a dearth of tackle candidates. He is depending heavily on Dean Hanley, a 200-pound sophomore from Altoona. The end positions are also a question mark, with Smith and Bob Morini the only players available with much actual playing time.

State is looking for more versatile backfield material this season in addition to better reserve forwards. Bill Denise and Johnny Patrick, sophomore backs, stand an excellent chance to win varsity berths.

SHOOTS PAR TO GAIN BIG LEAD

James A. Smith won the city golf championship at the Sylvan Heights course Sunday, when he downed Emil Mancine, who was defending the title he won last year, 5 up and 4 to go.

Mancine was not up to his usual game, and got away to a bad start, being four down at the end of the first nine holes, but steadied down some coming in on the first eighteen, but lost another hole to be five down at the end of the first round.

When play was resumed in the afternoon, he lost another hole going out, and while he made a desperate effort to come back, he could not overcome the smooth game Smith was playing, the match ending on the 32nd hole, with Smith five up.

Smith shot an even par round on the first eighteen holes, and was even with par going out. He was three over par on the five holes, coming in on the last round, but had such a lead that he did not need to beat down.

France Pushes Defense Plans

Makes Triple Reply To Germany's Recent Steps To Increase Forces

STRENGTHENS IRON RING ABOUT GERMANY

By LINDSEY PARROTT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PARIS, Sept. 8.—France bent all her financial and diplomatic might today towards the herculean labor of burnishing and buttressing the rusty "iron ring" around Germany. Thundering a triple reply to Germany's million-man army of two-year conscripts, France bolstered her smaller army with arms and alliances, with these rapid-fire developments:

1—Inauguration of a $920,000,000 four-year program of arms improvements.

2—Rejuvenation of the Franco-Polish alliance, with a $197,000,000 arms loan to Poland.

3—Welding of fascist Italy as a third link in the Franco-Polish alliance, plus renewed efforts for Italy's return as a collaborator in European peace set-ups.

The latter moves are being made through Secretary-General Joseph Avenol of the league of nations, who is conferring in Rome with Foreign Minister Count Ciano, and Gen. Edward Rydz-Smigly, inspector-general of the Polish army, who is in Venice for talks with Italian military leaders after his visit to Paris.

Planning to spend $263,000,000 within the forthcoming year alone, France may literally strengthen the "iron ring" by adding secondary defenses to the Maginot line of underground fortresses stretching all along the German frontier.

Improved mechanization of the army, doubling of the air force to a strength of 2,000 first-line machines, and development of a larger professional soldier corps are projected forthwith to compete with an army that France cannot equal numerically, because Germany's population is 60,000,000 against France's 40,000,000.

Because the arms program places an almost intolerable tax burden on France, however, the French government, announcing the new levies, "confirmed its resolution to take the initiative at forthcoming international conferences, with a view to obtaining a general convention for limitation and controlled reduction of armaments."

Colored Men Rob Cleveland Man

John Pescilik, 7817 Bancroft street, Cleveland, was the victim of two colored thugs at 9:20 p. m. Labor Day. They got $22.00.

He stepped off the curb at Cedar street and Mahoning avenue. Two colored footpads emerged from the rear of a billboard.

They pointed a revolver at Pescilik and robbed him of his money, he reports.

King Pins Medal On Daughter Of His Arch-Enemy

(International News Service)
BUCHAREST, Sept. 8.—King Carol with his own hands put the Golden Cross of the Rumanian Aeronautical Order on the breast of Princess Marina Stirbey, pretty daughter of his arch-enemy, Prince Barbu Stirbey.

Marina is Rumania's leading airwoman and Carol took his own opportunity to show his people that although the Princess' father did him wrong, he puts merit above family feuds and bestowed his royal recognition of Marina's qualities.

Old Prince Barbu Stirbey was once the most influential man at the Court of King Ferdinand, Carol's father. It was principally due to the intervention of Prince Stirbey that Carol's right to the throne was abrogated in 1926. After Carol's coup of 1930, Prince Stirbey fled from Rumania but his daughters remained here to take care of the vast family fortune.

Marina, youngest daughter, took up flying as a hobby and within a short time became Rumania's ace airwoman. The Golden Cross of the Aeronautical Order with which she was decorated by Carol, is one of the highest Rumanian distinctions. Amelia Earhart is one of the few women decorated with this order.

Two Killed In Ohio Plane Crash

(International News Service)
ASHLAND, O., Sept. 8.—Charred wreckage of a small open cockpit plane today held the secret of a crash at Ashland airport last night which claimed the life of the college student son of the airport head and a 16-year-old chum.

The victims, George Riebel, 22 and John Andrews, 16, were burned to death when the plane plunged to earth and burst into flames as Riebel tried to maneuver it for a landing.

Riebel, Ohio State university student and holder of a private license, and young Andrews, son of Rev. H. E. Andrews of Ashland, were trapped by the flames. The heat of the flaming wreckage blocked rescue efforts.

Relief Administration Target Of Republicans

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Emphasizing its charges with a lengthy specific listing of examples, the Republican national committee today leveled its fire on administration of work relief in Pennsylvania which is, the G. O. P. unit declared, shot through with corruption and coercion.

In response to numerous demands for investigation of similar indictments, the committee added, the administration answer has been to "suppress investigations and sit on the lid."

Illustrations Made
The following illustrations were included in the committee statement:

Pittsburgh: WPA labor used to rehabilitate flood-wrecked homes of political "ins"; relief workers forced to buy subscriptions to "We the People," a Democratic propaganda publication controlled by State WPA Administrator Edward Jones.

Philadelphia: Inmates of mental hospitals given beauty treatments in effort to gain free customers for the WPA "Beauty Culture School"; WPA employees make affidavit they were forced to change their registration from Republican to Democrat before obtaining their jobs; Charles McDonald, 14th ward Democratic leader, issued written orders to force relief clients to register Democratic.

Johnstown: Alex L. Cover, an alderman until defeated in last fall's election, now a general foreman on PWA road construction at $168 monthly. Cover has never had any experience at this work, the G. O. P. statement asserted.

Clearfield: A WPA assistant foreman sold a cow, then had WPA laborers work four days shovelling snow off a back road so the cow could pass up the road to her new owner.
